

33.

Church Street between Dennis and Neilson Streets. The buildings in this block have been extensively altered, so that it is difficult to distinguish their individual styles and ages.

34.

Church Street between Memorial Parkway and Dennis Street. Rubble filled lots abutting deteriorating buildings, such as found here on Church Street, are all too common in the area north of Hiram Street.

35.

Memorial Parkway and Peace Street looking south from Church Street. The undistinguished brick warehouse buildings on Peace Street have no architectural historic significance.